FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Operation Medical Shield Requests

All Excess Personal Protective Equipment

San Diego, CA. (March 25, 2020) – Charles Miles, a local Navy veteran, has launched OPERATION MEDICAL SHIELD to gather and deliver personal protective equipment (PPE) free of charge for medical professionals in our local hospitals. Charles' project kicked off last week, after hearing about the urgent need developing in the medical community. Within 48 hours, he was able to acquire and immediately redistribute free of charge approximately 50 boxes of protective gear to the local hospitals.

Mr. Miles is scaling up the operation with assistance of The California Disaster Airlift Response Team (CalDART, caldart.org, supplying administrative services), the Carlsbad Jet Center (carlsbadjetcenter.com, providing office space, storage and airport access), and Team Rubicon USA (teamrubiconusa.org, supplying local pickup/drop-off/and material handling services). Charles' budding organization is the NDLRO, NATIONAL DISASTER LOGISTICS RESPONSE OPERATIONS.

Charles targets the tens of thousands of unused PPE in the San Diego area, making it very simple for people to donate their supplies. If you are an idle business, or a business that doesn't need all of its supplies, or if you are an individual with a lot of unused supplies, San Diego needs them now, and we will distribute them to the hospitals for you. DO NOT DELAY, THE LIVES OF OUR HEALTH WORKERS AND THE STABILITY OF OUR HEALTH SYSTEM DEPEND ON YOU!!! PLEASE CALL US TO DONATE:

Surgical Masks

N95 masks (protects for airborne)

Simple Surgical masks (protects for droplets)

Gloves

Nitrile (no-latex) Sizes (Small, Medium, Large X-Large)

Face Shields

Clear held around head

Eye Protection Safety glasses
